FairPlay Sports Media is a data-powered sports media network focused on building and nurturing a portfolio of engaged and connected communities of sports fans and bettors.

FairPlay Sports Media's vision is to become the world's most admired sports media network, powered by sports fans and bettors. The group powers its products and partnerships with market-leading data and technology capabilities, connecting communities of sports fans and bettors with betting, media and advertiser partners.

FairPlay Sports Media was previously Oddschecker Global Media before rebranding in 2023. The group operates globally, with over 100 partners worldwide, and consists of oddschecker, WhoScored, vime, Confido Network and CasinoSmash.

It has a long history in providing data-powered products and services in sports betting, having started out as oddschecker back in 1999 and now processing 100m data updates on average per week across its platforms, reaching over 100m global unique users monthly across its network.
